Student Life

Clockwise: Marc Walkow '90 and Julius Tsai '91 solemnly guard the walk to a McCabe hell. • Theresa Shay '91 convinces an unsuspecting spec group to come to Swat. • Environmental Services at work year-round on the campus grounds. • Josie LaJoie '92 finds a quiet place to study in the BCC. • Pool shark Liz Campbell '92 gets set to make her move. • Siew-Kim Tan '91 and Gunter Schemmann '91 get a moment together before class. • Mark Harris '93 braces himself for a workout on the college's new Nautilus equipment.

Swarthmore College — as stated on page 8 in the Bulletin — was founded in 1864 by the Society of Friends, covers over 300 acres of rolling, wooded land, and is located within half an hour's commuting distance of Philadelphia. But to its students, as they "prepare themselves for full, balanced lives as individuals and responsible citizens", Swarthmore defies such simple description. The following pages present a closer look at what, in part, makes Swarthmore Swarthmore.

... A Closer Look

Parrish Beach

Clockwise: Matt Barlow '91 • Parrish Beach from

Lincoln '93 • A late October afternoon jam session •
Susan McGourty '90 and Emily Stubbs '92 • Simon
Firestone '92 and Jared Green '92.

McCabe Mile

Clockwise from top left: Caroline Soter '90 and Carolyn Comiskey '90 race to the Reserve Desk. • Anxious onlookers break from their Sunday night studies or even make a special trip to watch the 16 lap race. • Striving for a better vantage point, this student scales the shelves to secure his view. • Cindy Thomas '90 psyches up Team Parrish with the hope of winning a roll of Scott toilet paper. • Decked out in leopard lycra, Katy MacRae leads the pack. • to the Men's Cross Country team, a mere mile evokes the statement "SO". • Mike Dennis '93, Karen Jeffrey '92 and Andy Dailey '91 await the big finish.

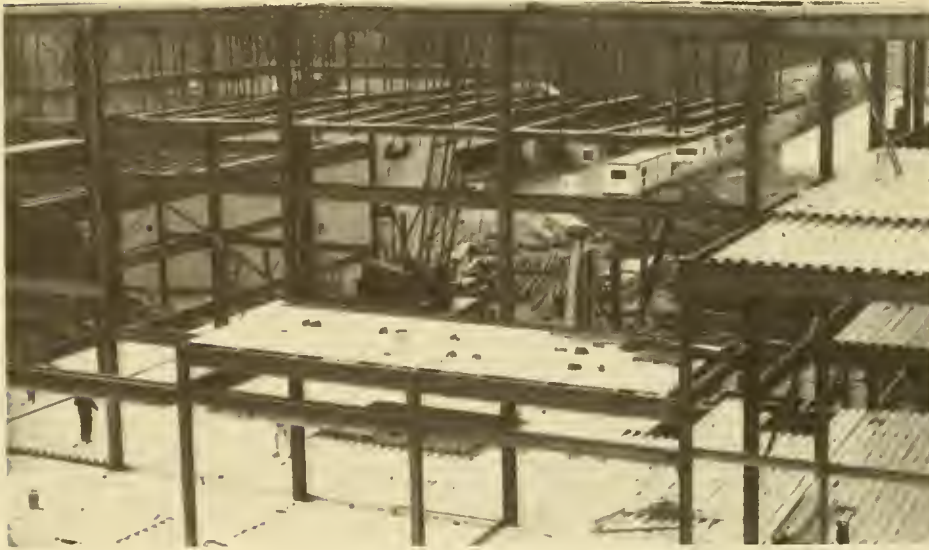

Spring Fling

Clockwise from top left: Kevin Roy, John Shaw, John Shakow, Fran Cuttita and Kirk Paluska at the pre-formal party in Worth. • Dave Myers '90 provided swarms of Frisbee players, tie-dyers, and sun-bathers with music throughout the afternoon. • Intramural softball was well attended despite the heat. • Mark Harris '93 and Ingeborg Daniels '93 tied up for the moment. • Lisa Streisfeld '90 oversees the chaos within the Jupiter Jump. • Pat Mills '93, Matt Alford '93 and Donna Feinberg '92 listen to music and bask in the sun at Worthstock.

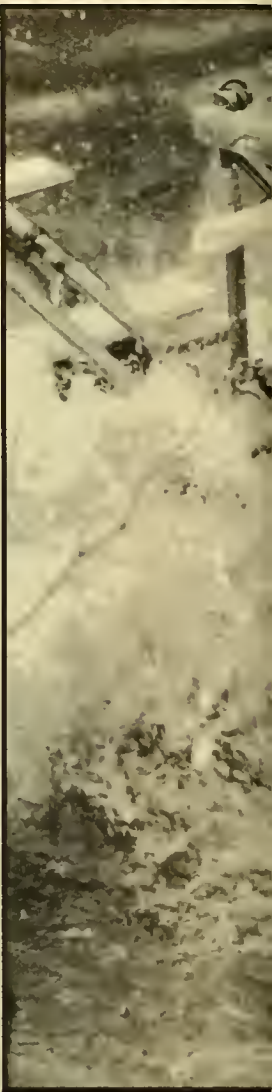

The Campus

Clockwise from top left: With the return of the Magill Walk daffodils each spring comes the return of students to Parrish lawn. • Blanketed in a December snow, the amphitheatre is eerily quiet. • Planted in celebration of Earth Day, this tree stands as the newest installment to the Scott Arboretum. • The arboretum staff and Environmental Services are constantly tending the campus grounds. • The cloisters and the ominously padlocked door to the "unreachable" belltower. • President David Fraser signs the final beam to be used in the PAC construction. • The Performing Arts Center as it stood in early November.

Crum Regatta

Even snow flurries could not freeze the enthusiasm of the '90 Crum Regatta. Held once again on Parents' Weekend in April, the race consisted of a journey down the treacherous headwaters of the Crum. Braving the cold, the crews competed to exhibit the speed and originality of their constructed crafts.

Sharples

Social Action

Clockwise from right: Elise Richer '92 and Jason Corder '91 take leftovers from Sharples to the Wesley House Homeless Shelter in Chester. • Karama Neil '93 at the Housing Now March in Washington D.C. • Large groups of Swarthmore students traveled to Washington on several occasions throughout the year for various protests. • Participants in Spring Break Service Project lay a brick path outside a home in Maryland. • The Swarthmore Pro-Choice Task Force and other concerned students march for reproductive freedom. • Molly Yard '33 came back to campus to kick off the first Social Action Week. • Representatives of numerous groups lined the halls of Parrish during Social Action Week.

Student Council: The Fall Student Council, with Sarah Newland '90 as coordinator, worked on collection, student-faculty relations phones, and photocopying facilities. In the spring, Student Council's issues included student-staff relations, recycling paper, collection, community, and generally trying to assert SC's role on campus. The SC coordinator for the spring semester was Cammy Voss '91.

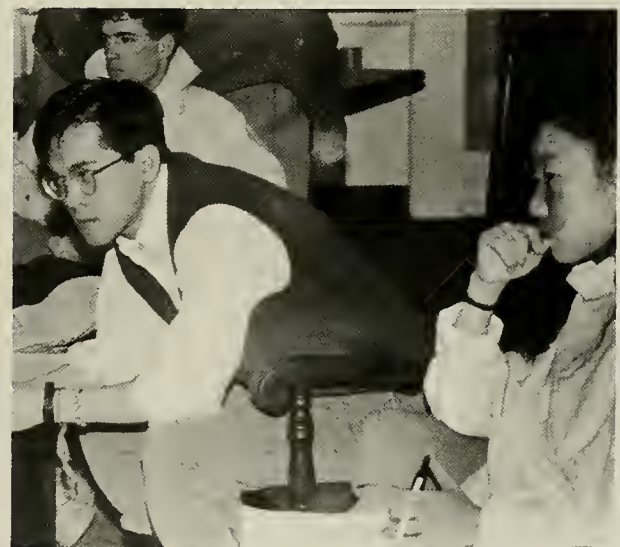

Michelle Freitag, Mike Harnisch, Chris Brown, Nien-he Hsieh, Jennifer DeWeerth, Rustom Khandalavala

Budget Committee: Budget Committee, a subcommittee appointed by Student Council, manages the $200.00 plus Student Activity Fund. The Committee allocates funds to over 75 student organizations.

Vicki Bajefsky, Ann Dickinson, Jessica Walker, John Irons, Mark Duckenfield, John Piker, Mike Allen, Teddy Cho.

The Movie Committee provides entertainment for the campus in the form of weekend cinema. The committee, which consists of about nine members, strives to bring a wide variety of films to campus, including foreign and classic movies as well as new releases. One change to the movie format this year was the addition of showing cartoons prior to Friday movies has continued for the second year.

Anne Park, Quoc Trang, and Steve Bruner intent during an SC meeting.

Pro-Choice Task Force: The Pro-Choice Task Force is committed to the active protection of access to safe and legal abortion and birth control for all men and women, and the assertion that all reproductive health care options must be a matter of personal choice, never one of force or coercion. To help keep reproductive decisions in the hands of those who will have to live with their decisions, we have escorted every Saturday, attended marches and rallies, written to our politicians, held open discussions and provided non-judgemental financial and emotional help to women attempting to seek abortion services in our current judgemental and dangerous climate.

Chester Tutorial: Chester Tutorial is a student-run program designed to give school children from the Chester area one-on-one help with schoolwork and reading, writing, and math skills. Swatties volunteer their time from 7-8:30 every Tuesday to tutor. The program has expanded to include approximately 50 children and special projects from posters for clothing drives and recycling to making holiday cookies for the homeless in Philly.

RIGHTS

PARRISH PARLOURS

Amnesty International: Amnesty International is a world-wide organization working to free people imprisoned for political prisoners, to end the death penalty, and to end the use of torture. The Swarthmore group works toward these goals by running letter writing table every Friday in Parrish Parlours, with our fall semester death penalty action day, and through the lectures and concerts given during our Rites/ Rights/ Writes of Spring

Spring Break Service Project:

The Spring Break Service Project is a group of student who spend their break working on a social action project. In past years, projects have included rebuilding low-income housing in Baltimore and volunteering help in a community center in Kentucky. This year a record number of students throughout the tri-college community expressed interest in SBSP, partly due to social action week in the beginning of the spring semester. This year the group returned to Maryland, working for Habitat for Humanity in Salisbury.

Lois Sach and Grapevine Alumni perform at the Jamboree

Grapevine: The Grapevine is a Swarthmore female a cappella group. Musical arrangements for performance range from 40's, 50's, jazz, pop, contemporary and originals to anything else that the group wants to sing. The Grapevine hosts Jamborees for the college community, travels to other schools, and performs at various on-campus events.

16 Feet: 16 Feet is an all-male a cappella octet that sings music ranging from the B-52's to Crosby, Stills, and Nash to the Beach Boys. With our new members this year, they're rebuilding their repertoire and having a strong start.

Row 1: Adam Payne, Jay Rhoderick, Mike Harnish, Darin Weyrich, Dylan Steinberg Row 2: Dave Lebson, Eric Behrens, Joaquin Feliciano

Hip-Hop Education Project: The Hip-Hop Education Project (HHEP) aims to promote student awareness and appreciation of hip-hop culture and its related components — rap music, graffiti art and breakdancing, among others — in order to both improve the social atmosphere at Swarthmore and to foster a more complete understanding of the twentieth century! To this end, HHEP conducts monthly meetings featuring hands-on demonstrations, movies and a number of all-campus parties showcasing the musical style that lies at the heart of hip-hop.

Jessica Walker '93, a "Peer Supporter"

Safewalk: The Student Safewalk Program provides a deterrent to assault on campus and increases security consciousness in the college community. Safewalkers escort people after dark, notice and report to security suspicious strangers or incidents, increase the Security Department's awareness of students' concerns, and increase the level of traffic along key walkways on campus.

The Shuttle Drivers devote their time and energy to transporting safely the many students who live off campus to their dorms and homes. As a group, they have developed a goal of making the shuttle experience as pleasant and entertaining as possible. Our motto: "Neither rain nor sleet nor locusts' blight will keep the shuttle from your door at night."

Shuttle Drivers: Row 1: Emily Gage; Row 2: Chip Field, Lisa Trottier, Julius Tsai, Karen Arndt, Lisa Pearson, Peter Auerbach; Row 3: Dave Ashby, Nick Jesdanun, Michael Lin

The Motherpuckers seek to accommodate every level of skater, from the hotshot Deerfield and Andover preps to the scared-to-death tripods (i.e. those who use the conveniently-provided hockey stick as a means of support). You play only against those with similar ability. All equipment: sticks, pucks, and helmets is provided and skate rentals are available; transportation to the local skating rink is provided through the SAF.

Juggling Club: The Juggling Club has weekly meetings and study breaks to provide an opportunity for all students, whether circus performer or novice, to improve their juggling skills. Instruction is provided and games such as field juggling are held each week. The club has equipment ranging from juggling balls to rings and clubs all of which may be used during the study breaks and for loan for private practice. The club also sponsors an all-campus study break several times during the year. In the past the club has given demonstrations to the college community at campus festivals and carnivals. Row 1: Nicole Brown, Ann Kelleher, Jane Woo, Jed Hartman. Row 2: Sean Kennedy, Susan Ruff, Karen Katz, Ed Bernstein, Michael Bernstein.

Bowling Club: The Bowling Club encourages the whole student body to take a break from work and enjoy a casual social sport. A number of faithful bowlers have scored well into the 200s; this includes Steve Maleson, Andy Rieger, and Mike Belfatti. Bowling Club coordinators: Steve Maleson, Doug Josephson, Chris Verdecchia.

Olaf Holt, Teri Minton, Mark Duckenfield.

Small Craft Warnings: Swarthmore's own literary magazine comes out semi-regularly, providing relief from stress for both its contributors and its readers.

Row 1: Julian Levinson, Eden Steinberg, Scott Castro. Row 2: David Rowe.

Life Force: Life Force is a group seeking to stimulate conscientious dialogue about social issues; it is committed to non-violent social change. Its intentions are as follows: 1) To promote awareness of the Consistent Life Ethic — a philosophy which defends life in all aspects and social issues. 2) To encourage students to examine comprehensively their viewpoints about social issues (egs. abortion, the death penalty, nuclear war), particularly how these views manifest themselves on a personal level as well as in the community, and 3) To provide students with the opportunity to discuss openly these issues in regularly scheduled meetings.

Alex Vishio, Kitty Keller, Phil McLean, Tammy Steinert, Maricel Santos

Debate Society: The Swarthmore Debate Society, funded by a grant from Amos J. Peaslee '07, offers students a chance to develop their reasoning and rhetorical skills. The Debate Society room is located upstairs in Bond Hall, and open meetings are held there on Tuesday and Thursday at 9:30 P.M. Those who regularly attend meetings are given the opportunity to attend inter-collegiate parliamentary debate tournaments. The debates are extemporaneous, with an emphasis on logic and wit.

Row 1: Phil McLean, I. donNo. Row 2: Peter Auerbach, Marcus Goldstein.

Big Band Club: The Big Band Club, which officially joined the Swarthmore music scene in the spring of 1988, was formed to provide a medium for playing the classic music of Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington, and the Count Basie Orchestras, as well as more recent jazz ensembles. It is a student-run group, supported by the Student Activity Fund, and rehearsals are held once a week throughout the semester. Although preparing the music is challenging and time-consuming, the music itself is fantastic and the rewards of performance include fame and renown on campus!

Along with regular business meetings, discussions and coffeehouses, the Women's Center also held monthly Newoman Feasts, Student Faculty / Staff potluck and a discussion with women of SASS. They published three issues of Commonspeaking and co-sponsored events including a concert with folk-singer Judy Gorman-Jacobs, lunch with Molly Yard, Sexual Abuse Awareness Week and speakers for Women's History Month.

The Answer: The Answer is a non-political, non-exclusive organization designed by women to facilitate the coalescence of the diverse background of Swarthmore females in a social context. The group sponsors campus events such as all-college parties as well as community activities involving the Big Sister program and counseling high school students with college concerns. Open to the college community, weekly meetings provide women with the opportunity to gather in a non-pressured social environment.

Ruach: RUACH, the Jewish student organization at Swarthmore, offers a sense of community and connection to its members. To develop understanding and participation in Jewish life, RUACH (the Hebrew word for spirit) sponsors lectures, and discussions with leading Jewish scholars and personalities, study groups, films, parties, Shabbat and holiday services, and meals in our Kosher kitchen and lounge. Recognizing our bond with Jews throughout the world, RUACH also provides information and programs dealing with Israel, the Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry and Project Chaver.

Caritas: Caritas, an ecumenical Christian association, maintains — "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty, and, in all things charity — love that cares and understands." charity — love that cares and understands." Caritas is a group which encourages questioning of what Christianity is and what it means to be a Christian. We meet every week for music, prayer, discussion, study, and various other activities. Each week a different member takes responsibility for the program to ensure diversity and individual expression. Some of the activities, in addition to the weekly meetings, include retreats, sponsoring guest speakers, gathering for song and praise, participating in ecumenical events on campus, and organizing all-campus events. Although we are an independently run student group, we are affiliated with the Protestant and Catholic Campus Ministries, and are endorsed by members of the faculty and administration as well as a group of area churches called Partners in Ministry.

Binder Volume III, copy 2, page 12: "... On the other hand, a marxist, dadaist, post-structuralist exegesis implies imminence. The formative teleological structure which defines the sentential basis of human thought transcends the very raison d'être suggested by a Lacanian reading of semiotic determinism. That notwithstanding, the Balzacian notion of self-generated phallogocentrism operates within the socially constructed episteme, thereby producing the central dialectic around which a homotopy can occur. The hermeneutic argument, however, disintegrates when one considers the éclat of Kantian discourse. Thus it is clear that pantheistic formalism reinforces the iterative metonymical nature of the post-modern aesthetic. Of course, to presuppose that tauto-logical phenomenology undermines our frame of rational perception is a jejune textualization of the feminist signifier. The self as context defines mechanistic apostasy par excellence ... "

You can never conquer a mountain. You stand on the summit a few moments. Then the wind blows your footprints away. — Anna-purna A Woman's Place.

Friendship.

Oh the comfort, the inexpressible comfort of feeling safe with a person having neither to weigh thoughts nor words, but having to weigh them all right out, just as they — chaff and grain together — certain that a faithful hand will take and sift them, keep what's worth keeping and with the breadth of kindness blow the rest away. — Dinah Mulock

It is good to have an end to journey towards; but it is the journey that matters, in the end. — Ursula LeGuin

We are the first species to hold in its own hands the power to affect consciously its own survival. But this can be achieved only if we know ourselves as species, and, more importantly, sense ourselves as a species, and, in the last resort, act as a species in the interest of the species as a whole. — Tiger and Fox, from The Sociology Debate

"I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full." After Jesus rose from the dead, He appeared to his disciples and said, "This is what I told you while I was still with you: Everything must be fulfilled that is written about me in the Law of Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms." Then He opened their minds so they would understand the Scriptures. He told them, "This is what is written: The Christ will suffer and rise from the dead on the third day, and repentance and forgiveness of sins will be preached in his name to all nations . . .

The road was long and hard yet, I've finally reached the end. I will never forget my Swarthmore experience, for it is here that I discovered who I am and where I'm going. Most of all, it is here that I made lifetime friendships. As I say goodbye, I also say thank-you to my parents who made it all possible.

Graduation

Held in the Scott Outdoor Auditorium, the 118th Swarthmore College Commencement ceremony was held on June 4, 1990. In addition to David Fraser, Sarah Waterman — elected class speaker — and five honorary degree recipients addressed the crowd of 330 graduating Seniors, family and friends. Once again, the rain held off (barely!).

ELIZABETH LANGWORTHY VOLZ

YOU GAVE EVERYTHING YOU HAD FOR JUSTICE

My Dearest Elizabeth,

There are no words that are "swell enough" to describe how proud I am.

With the strength of tremendous energy and understanding (and sometimes at great personal sacrifice) you have championed truth and held your ground. Justice has in you a shining advocate.

But I am inspired most by the courageous, caring person you have always been and are always becoming.

I love you,
I believe in you,
Forever and always.
